

A modular course

- Searching people and their bags
- Searching vehicles
- Searching premises and areas
- Searching vulnerable points within site boundaries

Telephone 01772 744 071 - email: info@statustraining.com - www.statustraining.com

Overview

Security Search Operations for illegal or prohibited items are an essential part of security strategy. Future high profile international sporting events, and the current requirement for vigilance from terrorism in all areas of commercial and public life in the United Kingdom, requires quality assured search training that fully embraces the new National Occupational Standards for Security Search Operations.

What does the programme cover?

The full course covers five modules including the Introduction to the threat from terrorism and recognizing improvised explosive devices, covers the systematic security searching of people and their bags, vehicles, premises and areas, and vulnerable points within site boundaries. but it is possible to take one or more of these according to staff development needs:-

Course Duration

Varies by module

Our Credentials

What are the benefits of this programme?

The programme provides security staff with the necessary search skills and information to enable them to carry out security searching to a standard that fully embraces the National Occupational Standards for Security Search Operations. Successful students will receive a Skills for Security certificate recognising that they have attained the necessary level of competence in this subject.

Who should attend?

Security personnel who may carry out systematic searches in support of specific events or as part of everyday guarding operations

No previous knowledge or experience is required.

Training at your premises

We are flexible where the course is delivered and will accommodate out of hours and weekend training for groups of 6 + at no extra cost.